

PARTNER SOLUTIONS BRIEF

Snowflake, a cloud-based data platform that connects businesses globally across workloads, partners with Continuus Technologies to provide professional services to enable enterprise data workflows throughout client's entire data ecosystem. Continuus has more than a decade of experience helping Investment Managers with data strategy, governance, project management, and advanced data engineering.

Asset managers have moved data to Snowflake, but applications and databases are siloed. Continuus is uniquely positioned to organize, strategize, and implement true enterprise data unification and data mastery with workflow and Snowflake expertise.

Move More Data into Snowflake

Continuus designs migration plans that position Snowflake in your overall data architecture to maximize outcomes: reduced operational complexity and cost, increased stability, and faster updates. Our industry leaders and data engineers transition on-premise systems and legacy datafeeds to a foundational data design that best serves your enterprise.

Enable Relevant Data for Your Enterprise

Continuus helps clients modernize their security masters and has been doing so for over a decade. Our team of industry experts creates client-specific programs that support self-service, create data trust, and promote responsible data use. This framework ensures proper security, access, and usage in Snowflake.

Unlock New Snowflake AI Capabilities

Continuus utilizes cutting-edge Snowflake technologies like Cortex and Streamlit alongside Mistral-AI to enable chatbots within your organization. Leverage your enterprise data and the LLM capabilities in Snowflake for relevant exposure and research insights.

Create Advanced Data Dashboards

Continuus builds meaningful, multi-source Streamlit dashboards that enable your team to make informed decisions and accelerate your business. Our Native App Studio team delivers interactive data apps that leverage AI, ML, and language models to break down data silos and enable quick decision-making.

Let our team of Financial Services Industry experts and certified Snowflake Professionals get to work for you. Contact us today!

info@continuus-technologies.com

